

Explain this statement to ABAWDs being interviewed who have exhausted their time limits.

(three "T" entries on ARFS between 1/1/2019 and 12/31/2021)

You have already received three time limited months. You are no longer eligible to receive Food Assistance unless you regain eligibility. You can do this at any time by working or volunteering 80 hours in 30 consecutive days, having an exemption from the work requirements or when the three-year period expires (next period begins 1/1/2022).

There is no limit on how many times you can regain eligibility.

Once you have regained eligibility for food assistance and we have proven that you are eligible to participate in the program, you will remain eligible as long as you continue to meet the work requirements or meet an exemption.
